A TEST OF HOUSEWIFERY.

The kitchen sink is not a glorious place to be in, but it is a necessary outlet for the disposal of many household articles. In fact, we have all heard it mentioned as a "necessity" that the entire art of the housewife's work lies in the cook's "management" and knowledge of sanitation.

"How you sink and I will describe your cook!" is a lonely home.

If she is littered with tea leaves and coffee grounds it will be "whisk-clean," for a great mass of bottom suds will be formed.

attempted the overland trip to Dawson and the Klondike had followed the route suggested by him, but we have no idea of the time he took.

Warmer than Manitoba.

On the north, in the vicinity of Mr. McLeod's ranch, in the timbered areas of the Peace river country, he declares, will soon be settled and developed a new community. He says that while in the service of the Hudson Bay Company, he saw what would be the future of the country.

In winter, Mr. McLeod, who has a great experience to him, was in touch with the Free Press.

Mr. McLeod, through a large portion of the far north and west and was associated with some of the best men in the country. He is personally known to the French soldiers and those refused to shoot him, the bishop said he was to be shot, then well and good, but nothing unusual occurred.

Condensed With Scott.

Mr. McLeod was a member of the council of nobles in the initial day of the Red River Settlement. Scott was court martialled by Col. Scott and Mr. McLeod should be shot on the following Sunday. His life was spared by the intervention of the French soldiers, and those refused to shoot him, the bishop said he was to be shot, then well and good, but nothing unusual occurred.

In the winter, Feb. 1, Mr. McLeod drove his team from Edmonton to Winnipeg and back. The journey eastward was made in ten days, and the return in eight. Six men were taken back to Edmonton, one of them being Alex. Dunphy, the White Bear.

At the time of the rush to the Klondike, Mr. McLeod, who had become familiar with the country and the people, travelled for the Hudson Bay company and states that if the travellers who

Keep the sink clean, hanging above the drain, so that whatever anything that contains sediment is poured out. The necessary grating in the bottom of the sink must be kept clear of the substances which clog the pipes.

The value of these in all its works is incalculable, and will be invaluable to the careless eye when hot, but afterward working out of mischief.

It is better to wash the sink upon the sides of the drain, and, if not "soft," becomes as hard and impervious as stone.

The pipes will be protected from the effects of the disastrous stoppages in these pipes are the direct result of the carelessness of the housewife.

Never have found it into the sink at all—or, if this had happened, it would have been soon into a mass.

LAST SESSION IN ALBERTA OF BEEF COMMISSION

A. R. Turner, Manager J. Y. Griffin Co., Says That Local Manufacturers Sell For One-Cent Lower Than Imported Article. Review Of Work Of Evidence Shows Producers Are At Mercy Of Big Dealers.

The Beef Commission finished its work in Alberta yesterday afternoon with the adjournment of the hearing at the office of A. R. Turner, manager of the J. Y. Griffin Co., dealers in cured meats.

"How are you competing?" asked Mr. Nolan, when Mr. Turner took the stand.

"We are from American firms and from the local manufacturers," replied the witness.

"What more do you get your customers?"

From "Witness."

In answer to a number of questions by Counsel Nolan, the witness said the freight cost 75 cents per hundredweight, and the producer's cost 100 cents and delivery 25 cents up to 800 pounds. The local manufacturers were getting one-half to two-half cents below the imported article. During the last six months, Mr. Turner had sold 100,000 pounds in the neighborhood of 200,000 pounds of cured meats. He stated that the Northern trapper was the only kind that was in demand for the Northern trade as it would keep much longer than the Southern kind. The Northern trapper could not afford to have one pound of an article which cost him 100 cents.

As to Packing Plant.

Commodore Nolan desired particulars of the new packing plant which is being erected in Edmonton by J. Y. Griffin Co.

Mr. Turner stated it would be the largest in Canada. It was estimated that the capacity of the plant would be 3,000 hogs a day, besides dealing wholesale in the district.

Mr. Turner further stated there were not enough hogs in the district to meet the plant's capacity, so he had decided to import hogs to create a sufficient supply. The country was well adapted for hog raising and the market for hogs in the districts were unlimited.

After a few closing words by the chairman of the committee, Mr. Middleton, the commission adjourned to meet in Winnipeg the first week in August.

Held 14 Meetings; 300 Witnesses.

The Commission held meetings at frequent intervals throughout the month over 300 witnesses representing the large ranchers in the southern part of the province, 10,000 to 600 cattle—and it was interesting to note the modesty with which some of them responded to the query of Comodore Nolan.

"How many cattle have you, Mr. X?"

"Oh, about 16,000 or so."

Then there was the small rancher with from 150 to 200 head turning off.

20 to 30 each year; and finally the large rancher who said: "Dearest, I think it worth to buy a small isolated bunch and many small men have been forced out of business raising hounds in the country."

In the merciful part of this province, where the law is different in disposing of their surplus dairy cattle and other rough animals they are allowed to grow out at 22 cents or less.

In order to create a steady and certain market for hogs they are calling for a general culling.

The farmers complain of the fluctuations in the pork market, sometimes the price goes up and then down again, swerving whether it is going to pay better to grow out at 22 cents or less.

It is the opinion of the Commission that in itself is a satisfaction to him and a warning to his opponents to continue his policy of dieting his hogs.

P. Burns and Gordon & Ironsides, or the like, are the only ones who are engaged against him in rates and the markets over the road to the markets in the south. The evidence of the publicists in the first step is to refer to the market.

(O)—The monopolistic condition of the whole meat industry.

The evidence added would seem to show unmistakably the producer gets no square deal. The producers are not allowed to form a homogeneous body without any organization for concentration or defense that will be able to compete with the corporations and monopolies which they lament.

They must act the rôle of the rascals.

The evidence of the publicists has stimulated these.

A Review of the Evidence.

From a review of the evidence the Commission found that the price of the hogs may be classed into the grievances of the large ranchers of the south, those of the small producers in the central and northern districts, and those peculiar to the north.

The large rancher being principally interested in the production of hogs, raising, as he does, from 300 to 2,000 head per year should be placed in a class of its own.

Some of his difficulties are the delays on the railway in getting cars; the lack of money; the difficulty of securing cars in a reasonable length of time after the order is given; the difficulty of getting stock cars; the absence of feeding and watering facilities in the cars; the difficulty of getting cars in time for hogs; the exorbitant prices paid for hogs at unloading stations; inability to unload hogs at stations.

With the difference in the cost of hogs on certain occasions; the dishonesty of commission merchants; the difficulty of getting cars; the lack of space; the uncertainty of the British market; the extremely long train rides which necessitate the loading of hogs in the British market.

Evil of Discrimination. The grievances of the small producer are discrimination against him in shipping. He has no guarantee of the quality of his product.

The Commission has conducted their investigations honestly and fearlessly, without malice and without any desire to injure anyone.

Mr. P. J. Nolan, of Calgary, as counsel, His ability as a cross-examiner is known to all. His success in the court has been almost phenomenal. He succeeded in getting the information that is calculated to have a wholesome influence upon public opinion in the present case.

It is hoped that the investigation in Manitoba will be as successful as it has been in Alberta.

Financial and Commercial News

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Discontinuance of Advance—Speculation Affected by Money Stringency

New York, July 22.—The operations for the advance in a limited group of stocks which distinguished the market during the past week were discontinued to-day. The tone was promptly responsive, and the quotations made up about all there was of last week's market.

The farmers' complaint of the fluctuations in the pork market, sometimes the price goes up and then down again, swerving whether it is going to pay better to grow out at 22 cents or less.

The evidence further shows that there are several conditions that may affect the market generally, equally applicable to the whole province, which may be enumerated as follows:

(1)—The absence of competition among buyers.

(2)—The belief that the buyers have the power to restrain the districts.

(3)—Contract system which prevents competition amongst buyers.

(4)—The abuse of the shrinkage system.

(5)—The inefficiency of brand inspection.

(6)—The inefficiency of hide inspection.

The Commissioners have conducted their investigations honestly and fearlessly, without malice and without any desire to injure anyone.

Four Hundred Beaver Skins Impounded—On Way to Montreal.

Ottawa, July 22.—Four hundred beaver skins were seized by Provincial Inspector Léopold on Saturday morning. They were shipped from Maniwaki and were bound for Montreal when the government made immediate seizure.

The skins were condemned as being of extremely poor quality.
